Free electron calculation of the energy levels of benzene

We can use the free electron model to obtain the transition energies of benzene. We assume that the radius of benzene is 1.5 Å and benzene has six π electrons. Please give your answer in cm^{-1}.